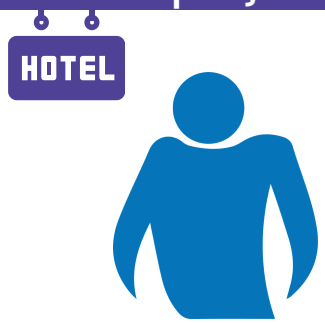
Gillis
Cultivating a culture of selling.

Many hotels are operating with limited staff due to the pandemic and do not have the time or expertise to dedicate to sales. As our industry gradually recovers, it will be critical to have the right sales approach to capture business and be competitive in your local market.

As a Hotel Owner or General Manager, you have the option to hire on-property sales staff or you can partner with a trusted outsourced sales partner. When you partner with Gillis, you can compete like a full-service property without having to spend like a full-service property.

On Property Sales vs Gillis Dynamic Sales Solution



Extended Ramp-Up vs Immediate Sales Team

- 73.8% turnover rate in the hotel industry[1]
- 70% of companies take anywhere between 1-4 months to process a new hire[2]
- Typically takes 8 months for a newly hired employee to reach full productivity[3]

- Turnkey full-service sales team ready to start selling immediately
- Continuous sales support regardless of time off or turnover
- Faster ramp up and shortened sales cycle

Limited Capacity vs Scalability

- Incoming inquiries and administrative tasks take priority over hunting for new business
- More difficult to effectively pivot and adapt to increased competition and challenges in the market

- Our Dynamic Sales Solution is responsive, targeted, scalable, and significantly more affordable than building the expertise within
- Team approach that flexes to meet the relevant needs of our clients and actively pursue sales opportunities on a local, regional and national level

Divided Focus vs 100% Sales Focus

- Lack of time or sales skills required to develop and execute an effective sales plan
- Limited bandwidth to train and manage sales teams
- Focus can be split between sales and operations resulting in a start and stop approach
- Sales takes a back seat to operations

- Our sellers have an average of 18 years' of hospitality sales experience
- Expertise and relationships with key decision-makers across all market segments
- Trained in all brand systems and programs
- 100% focused on revenue generation
- Aligned with brand support teams, revenue management and national sales teams

Cost Prohibitive vs Cost Effective

- Can be cost prohibitive to hire and manage property level sales staff
  - Average salary for hotel sales manager with 5-9 years' experience = $50,000
  - Approx. 25-30% for overhead and benefits = $15,000
  - Average cost per hire is $4,000[4]
  - All in cost = $69,000 for one sales manager
- Additional $5-8k per year to purchase and implement a CRM and sales tools to support the sales effort

- Save an average of 40% on recruiting, hiring, training, managing sales staff
- Compete like a full-service property without having to spend like one
- Sales activities tracked in Salesforce providing full visibility into prospecting and account management efforts
- Qualified database that allows us to quickly identify opportunities in your market
- Prospecting tools and CRM included

Risk vs Reward

- Hotel assumes all risk for sales team performance
- Rehiring for underperforming employees is costly and impacts sales momentum
- Extended ramp up resulting in longer ROI

- Low risk, easy opt-out contract terms
- Double your investment in the first 6 months and average 4X ROI at 12 months
- 95% of clients stay in program past initial contract period

Let us be an extension of your team and help you fast track your recovery.

Contact Us.

Phone: 800.296.2962
Email: sales@gillissales.com
Website: gillissales.com

Sources

1. https://www.dailypay.com/blog/staff-turnover-rates-hotel-motel-hospitality-industry/
2. https://www.talentlyft.com/en/blog/article/258/recruitment-metrics-time-to-hire
3. https://hbr.org/2015/03/technology-can-save-onboarding-from-itself
4. https://www.glassdoor.com/employers/blog/hidden-costs-employee-onboarding-reduce/